Rise in Maximum Temperature over Mumbai

Season's highest maximum temperature was recorded over Mumbai today on 17th Feb 2020. Santacruz recorded maximum temperature of 38.1 deg Celsius and Colaba recorded 34.7 Deg C. This is the third highest temperature reported over Mumbai Santacruz during last 10 years. The maximum temperatures recorded over the IMD departmental stations are given below:

Stations	Maximum Temperature recorded	Departure from Normal
Santacruz	38.1	+7.2
Colaba	34.7	+4.9

Due to the prevailing strong South Easterly winds from the land region and also low humidity values the temperatures are expected to rise and similar conditions are likely to prevail for next 24 hours over the region.

The highest maximum temperature recorded in the month of February so far in Mumbai is 39.6 deg Celsius (1966). The table below shows the climatological record of temperature for the last 10 years in Mumbai.
